

Table of Contents

Introduction — V

The Authors — XI

I. The Group of Thirty Report on Banking Conduct and Culture

Jean-Claude Trichet

Summary of Group of Thirty Findings — 3

II. Why focus on Culture?

Andreas Dombret

Culture and Conduct — 9

Alberto G. Musalem

The importance of Reforming Bank Culture — 16

Patrick Kenadjian

We ignore Culture at our Peril — 22

III. Enforcement and Supervision

John Griffith-Jones

Lessons from the Crisis — 47

Danièle Nouy

The View from the SSM — 51

Simon Gleeson

Culture, Supervision and Enforcement in Bank Regulation — 58

IV. Bankers' Codes: From Industry to Profession

Klaus J. Hopt

A Plea for a Bankers' Code of Conduct — 75

Wim Mijs, Chief Executive of the European Banking Federation

The Dutch Experience: Can an Oath repair the Dialogue? — 85

V. Supervisors and Boards

Sir Paul Tucker

Banking Culture: Regulatory Arbitrage, Values, and honest Conduct — 99

Douglas Flint

Changing Corporate Behaviour – the Role and Importance of Governance — 113

Sylvie Matherat

It's all about Trust — 117

VI. Taking Responsibility: The Banker's New Attitude

Lorenzo Bini Smaghi

A View from France — 125

John Cryan

Taking Responsibility at Deutsche Bank — 129

Jan P. Krahn

How to conceptualize Corporate Culture and Cultural Change: Motivation for a Research Agenda — 135

VII. Is it Culture or Structure?

Georg Fahrenschon

The Importance of Structure — 143

Leonhard H. Fischer

The Need to Synchronize Culture and Structure — 146

Dominik Treeck

In the End it is both Culture and Structure — 149

VIII. Conclusion

Axel A. Weber

Conclusion — 155

